	Claims	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 1-12	YES
	Claims	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-12	YES
	Claims	NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Claims 1-12 satisfy the criteria under PCT Articles 33(2)-(4) for novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability.

The closest related art cited in the International Search Report are:

GB 2248888 and WO 2002/040376.

Whilst the above documents disclose dispensers with detachable dispenser heads and solenoid valve means that open and close automatically and periodically, there is no disclosure of the solenoid valve means substantially enclosed in a metallic locking cover means, the cover means being arranged to intensify a magnetic field which facilitates opening and closing of the valve means.

The claims are therefore novel.

None of the prior art suggest or imply the use of a metallic locking cover means to enclose the solenoid valve means designed to intensify the magnetic field which opens and closes the valve. None of the documents provide any motivation to do what is claimed.

The claims are therefore inventive.

The subject matter of the claims is suitable for industrial applicability.
